

Below is a comprehensive list of supplies that might be applicable. I do have some basics on hand, but many families choose to buy their own. These are not required, only suggested.

If you are interested in purchasing or upgrading your instrument, please reach out. I am happy to guide you towards reputable vendors!

Cleaning Supplies

The school keeps some basics on hand, but students might want to have their own. Especially if you have invested in your own instrument.

Cork Grease- No particular Brand
Slide grease- No particular Brand
Cleaning Cloth- No Particular Brand

Valve Oil- Most brands are fine, I personally use Blue Juice just make sure you know if you need rotary or piston valve oil.

Mouthpieces

I highly recommend getting your own. The mouthpiece affects the overall tone of the instrument and investing in a good one can enhance the student's sound, even on a school instrument. Below are some that have a good reputation that I feel good about recommending. But, there are more out there.

Other Supplies

I have some basics, but these are good options

NECK STRAP FOR SAXOPHONE

Saxophone players normally use a neck strap while playing. Some instruments may come with a neck strap. But, if for some reason yours doesn't we recommend the Neotech Sax Strap (alto)

Who it's for: Saxophone Players

Price: currently $15.99 on Amazon

PRACTICE PAD FOR DRUMMERS

Percussion students probably won't need a practice pad at school. But, parents - trust us, you're going to want it at home.

A foam rubber drum pad offers the perfect way for students to practice on a rebounding surface, quietly!

Who it's for: drummers (more for parents)

Price: currently $19.97 on Amazon

DRUM STICK BAG

Percussions students will need a way to carry several sets of drumsticks and mallets. A stick bag is an easy way to organize sticks, tape, drum key, and other accessories drummers will need.

Who it's for: drummers

Price: currently $21.99 on Amazon

String Instruments

SHOULDER REST!!!

For this level, everyone should invest in a shoulder rest.

Everest and Kun are standards and are priced around or under $20

Rosin- Most Rosin is fine, Some I like are Jade, D'Addario and Bernardel.

Most are around $5-$10 Dollars

Bass Rosin- Different from other rosins

No brand preference

Strings- Different Instruments sound better with different strings

If you are playing on a high-end instrument you will want to invest in nice strings

For mor standard instruments mid-level strings work.

Some Brands I like: Are Prelude and Dominant
